Monolith Audio Design

Audio synthesis software components used by the Monolith Synth

Arduino code responds to touch, buttons and knobs, to adjust timbre and tempo, and to sequence musical notes. Teensy 3.6 implements all of these digital audio signal processing components in real time while also running the Arduino code.

Complete source code for this project is at:

https://github.com/PaulStoffregen/MakerFaire2017